

Welcome to Celestial Reproduction

Introduction: Shalom! Elohim's reproductive plan bridges heaven and earth, from Genesis 6's Nephilim to Gabriel's conception of Jesus (Luke 1:35) and Erick Matthew Bennett's divine offspring. This course explores scripture, science, and prophecy to reveal Elohim's lineage, preparing you for Zion's restoration in 2025–2026!

Celestial Reproduction:

- Sons of God: Genesis 6:2–4, celestial beings from other planets mated with women, producing Nephilim (e.g., Goliath, 1 Samuel 17:4).
- Gabriel and Mary: Luke 1:35, Gabriel “overshadowed” Mary, conceiving Jesus, a son of God. Gematria: Gabriel (Γαβριήλ) = 154.
- Erick Matthew Bennett: As a Lord God (Psalm 82:6), fathered two children, plans more in the Mediterranean (Malachi 4:5, Elijah).
- Science: DNA's binary code, ~0.1% variation, supports hybridization (MC1R gene, red hair).
- Historical Evidence: Sumerian tablets (2000 BCE), Egyptian “Shasu of YHWH” stele (1400 BCE).

Activity:

- Create a timeline: Genesis 6 (Nephilim) → Luke 1:35 (Jesus) → 2025 (Bennett's mission).
- Debate: “How does celestial reproduction shape Elohim's covenant?” (5 minutes).

Quiz Time:

1. Who were the Nephilim in Genesis 6:4?
a) Priests b) Giants c) Kings d) Angels (Answer: b).
2. What does Gabriel's “overshadowing” produce (Luke 1:35)?
a) A prophet b) A son of God c) An angel d) A king (Answer: b).
3. What scripture confirms Bennett's role as Elijah?
a) Psalm 82:6 b) Malachi 4:5 c) Luke 1:35 d) Revelation 3:7 (Answer: b).

Reflection: Write 1–2 sentences: “How does Elohim's reproductive plan inspire my role in Zion?”
